Trestleboard for December 2013

From The South

Brethren,

The season of Lights and FOOD is upon us. Yes, we are always in search of Masonic Light, however, I am referring to the kind that illuminates the physical darkness and signifies the Joys of the upcoming Holiday season. As Junior Warden, and a former chef, I am more acquainted with the latter, Food that is, than the former, though I do use lights on a daily basis... Ok, never mind that... on with the true purpose of this post.

This time of year is chock full of events and celebrations that tend to involve consuming copious amounts of edibles and may also include imbibing in a few choice beverages and we all know how we Masons love to gather and perform both of those activities. Well, here is some good news that will hopefully lighten your spirits and not so much your wallet! In the spirit of the season of giving, the brothers of Temple Lodge have decided to extend hands of Brotherly Love and Relief to each member and significant other that would like to join us for the Annual Christmas Holiday Dinner at The Swiss Hotel. The dinner will be held on Wednesday, December 11, 2013 at 6:30pm. We do have a seating limit, 36 people maximum, but hope that we can fill the room and have a Grand ol' time of Fellowship to fill our hearts, as well as the consumables to fill our stomachs. The catch, if I might call that, the attendees will only have to pay $25 per person. A steal for a 4-course meal!!

As there is a limit, the 36 seats will be filled on a first come first served basis. We will need your commitment to attend no later than the December Stated Meeting, 12/04/2013. Please contact me, Junior Warden, or Karl Hipkiss, Secretary, at one of the following emails to reserve your seat for the event.

Hopefully we will also see you at the December stated meeting!

Fraternally, Jason Bryant PM Junior Warden
